

RDocs™: Elevating Content Value through Smart Document Innovation

RDocs™ redefines the landscape of document management with its cutting-edge approach. By seamlessly integrating intelligent features, RDocs™ provides document senders with unparalleled control that extends beyond the initial transmission. This innovative solution not only safeguards senders' content but also offers a window into the world of SmartDocs—documents that go beyond static files to gather insights, adapt, and enhance engagement.

The RDocs™ service converts any document or presentation into an RPD™ (Rights Protected Document) file type, which displays to the reader as a simple .html file that can be opened in any browser, and in any device. With RPD™ files, the intelligent features selected by the document originator are prescribed into the file itself. This means that there is no storage of content anywhere; pure compliance bliss.
